Midst of many prominent archeological findings in the vicinity of St. Brcke there is a church, which is located in the centre of present-day Kavljak, at the foot of the old town of Kavljak.

Kavljak is a small village, which is located on the southeastern outskirts of the town of Kakanj.

The church itself is a classic example of a church of the 15th century. Its construction started in the early 15th century and was completed in the mid-15th century. The church is located on the eastern part of the town of Kavljak.

The church is an example of the late Gothic style, which is characterized by the use of pointed arches and the presence of ornamental elements on the interior and exterior of the building.

A unique feature of the church is the presence of frescoes on the interior walls, which depict scenes from the life of Christ and the Virgin Mary.

The church is a valuable example of the Gothic style in the region and is considered one of the most important churches of the 15th century in the area.

The church is open to the public and visitors can admire the frescoes and the beautiful architecture of this important historical monument.
